COURSE SET-UP

This is an online history course, so there will be no face-to-face meetings. The course is divided into five units. Each unit covers three chapters from your textbook. You will have a test over each unit. There are also three required papers. All of the requirements and due dates are explained in detail later in the syllabus.

ATTENDANCE REQUIREMENTS

There are no attendance requirements or points for attendance. However, the Winterim session has due dates for the tests and the papers. Those due dates are listed later in the syllabus

LATE TEST AND ASSIGNMENT

Five points will be deducted from your scores for any late assignments or tests. If you do miss the deadline to take a test, you will need to contact me as soon as possible about arranging a date to make-up the missed test. If you do not have a legitimate reason for missing the test deadline, you will receive a zero.

EXTRA CREDIT

None

SYLLABUS

Please read through this syllabus very carefully. You are responsible for understanding and adhering to the course requirements and deadlines. Most of the questions you may have about the class are answered by a thorough reading of the entire syllabus. Other on-line courses may have different requirements, standards, due dates, etc., so please make sure you understand the requirements for this class. The syllabus may be adjusted at the discretion of the instructor.

COMMUNICATION WITH INSTRUCTOR

Since this is an on-line course we will not meet face-to-face. The best way to communicate with me is through e-mail at jshorey@iwcc.edu. During the winterim session I will check my e-mails on a daily basis throughout most of the session. There may be a day or two when I will not check my e-mails. I will usually only check my e-mails once a day. So normally I will respond to you within about 24 hours.

Instructional Techniques and Practices

This course is divided into five units. Each unit covers three chapters of the textbook, except Unit 3 which covers four chapters. There is a test grade for each unit. The five units are as follows:

Unit 1: Chapters 17-19

Unit 2: Chapters 20-22

Unit 3: Chapters 23-26

Unit 4: Chapters 27-29

Unit 5: Chapters 30-32

Please note that your textbook does include chapter 16. However, that chapter is covered in the previous section of U.S. History and is not included in this course.

Along with the five unit test grades, there are also three essays that are required.

All testing is done through the Iowa Western operating system known as ROC. The three essays are also submitted through ROC.

Grading

All tests and written assignments are on a points system. Your final grade will be determined on a 90-80-70-60 grading scale. Points earned for the requirements are as follows:

Syllabus Quiz	-	5
5 Unit Tests (30 points each)	-	150
3 Essays (20 points each)	-	60
Total	-	215

Final grades are viewable on ROC, Self-Services Menu, Students, Academic Record the Tuesday after the end of the semester. Also, I do round up. So a final percent of 89.50% would round up to 90% and be an "A". A final percent of 89.40% is a "B".

Syllabus Quiz:

Your first required activity is to take the syllabus quiz. The quiz contains five multiple choice questions. You will have ten minutes to take the quiz, and you will only have one attempt on the quiz.

Examinations:

Each unit test will be 30 multiple choice questions from the three or four chapters for each unit. Approximately eight to ten questions will come from each chapter. You will have two opportunities to take a test for each unit. Each of the two tests for each unit covers the same material, but they are not the exact same test questions. Your final score for the unit will be the best score out of the two tests, not the average. Also, you do not have to take both tests. If you score well on the first test, you may move on.

All testing is open book and open note, but they are timed. You will have a maximum of 30 minutes for each test. In order to do well on the tests, you need to be very familiar with the material prior to taking the test. You will be able to look up some information during the test, but there won't be time to look up everything.

All tests are available in the course shell on ROC. Your tests will be graded and recorded in the grade book immediately upon completion of the test. Once you submit the test for grading, you will be able to view your test results and see which questions you missed. In the first two minutes, you may click in and out of the test. After two minutes, when you click out of the test you will no longer be allowed to go back in and review it.

If you do not do well on the first test, think about ways to adjust your studying and preparation before taking the second test. In order to do well on the tests, you need to really study and know the content from the textbook.

Essays:

Along with the test grades and syllabus quiz, there are three papers required. These papers will allow you to explore some topics in more detail and will also offer you the opportunity to earn points other than through testing. Details about the requirements for the written assignments are explained in detail in the last two pages of this syllabus. The three papers are required. Your overall grade will probably go down two or more letter grades if you do not do the three papers.

Submission of Assignments:

It is your responsibility to make sure your papers are submitted in a format that I can access. If you submit an assignment as an attachment, it must be done in "Word" or it may be saved as an rtf (Rich Text Format) document. The Rich Text Format is available as one of the drop down options under "save as". If you attach your assignment using "MS Works" or "Notepad", I will not be able to open it and it will receive a zero. If I cannot open and read a paper, it will be a zero. Our system also has difficulty opening Google Docs. So, to be sure I can open and read your papers, the best option is "Word".

I will usually grade submitted papers within a couple days after they have been submitted. I will write comments on papers that are submitted throughout the Winterim session.

VIEWING FINAL GRADES

Final grades are viewable on ROC, Self-Services Menu, Students, Academic Record the Tuesday after the end of the semester.

Essays

There are many questions in history that have been analyzed and debated over the years. The essays are your opportunity to participate in these intellectual debates. You are required to select three essays from the list of five choices provided. Each essay is worth 20 points. The guidelines for the essays are as follows:

Paper Guidelines:

1. minimum length is 300 words
2. heading: Your essay should include a heading at the top so I know for sure which topic you are discussing.
3. writing style: Your paper should use good grammar, correct punctuation, spelling and word use. It should be well organized and logical in its development.

Content Guidelines:

1. The essays are pretty much your opinion, so there are no right or wrong answers. However, opinions with no facts or logical arguments is not worth much. Your essays need to have facts or arguments that support your point of view. You obviously may consult your textbook or numerous other sources for information in formulating your ideas.
2. On some of these topics, you may be split in terms of your opinion and so you may also bring up both sides of the issue and assess the merits of each side.
3. If you are not real knowledgeable about the topic, you will also need to do some research and educate yourself about the particular topic.
4. I am mainly looking for some critical thinking and analysis of the topics that you select to write on.

Essay Topics:

Please select three of the following five topics for your essays.

1. Some of the most recognizable names of the late 19th century in U.S. history are people such as: John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie and Cornelius Vanderbilt. Each of these three men accumulated immense fortunes and helped the United States become an industrial and economic power. However, they were also known for their greed, corruption and exploitation of their workers. Were these men, and others like them, an overall positive for the United States or an overall negative?

2. The time period in U.S. History from roughly 1900 to 1920 is known as the Progressive Era. The goal of the Progressive Movement was to improve America by using the government in a positive way to combat abuses of power by big business and to help alleviate societal problems, such as; poverty, pollution, workplace safety, etc. While improving society is a very worthwhile goal, the Progressive Era signaled the beginning of big government and its intrusion into the everyday lives of Americans. In your opinion, was the Progressive Era necessary to bring about positive changes through the intervention of government, or does the intrusion of big government with all of its regulations create an unnecessary burden on our lives?

3. World War II came to a rather quick end when the United States dropped two atomic bombs on the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, killing thousands. Should the United States have dropped the atomic bombs on these two Japanese cities?

4. The Vietnam War is considered to be the first war in United States history that the U.S. lost. Was the Vietnam War a hopeless and unwinnable war, or could the United States have won the war in Vietnam?

5. One of the main characteristics of United States history has been immigration. Recently, there has been an increased flow of immigrants into the United States primarily from Latin American countries. Do you feel the recent immigration (in the last 20 years) has been a net positive or a net negative for the United States?

Due Dates and Submission Process:

1. Please submit your essays in the appropriate drop box in the course on ROC.

2. If you submit your paper as an attachment, you must use "Word" or submit it as an .rtf document. Otherwise, I will not be able to open it.

3. You may select whichever three essays you choose, and you may do them in any order.

Due Dates: Essay 1 - Sat. Dec. 23

Essay 2 - Fri. Dec. 29

Essay 3 - Wed. Jan. 3
